

Understanding Regulation, Theory and Practice (EDUC) *

Infos pratiques

---

- > Nombre d'heures : 24.0
- > Langue(s) d'enseignement : Anglais, Français
- > Période de l'année : Enseignement huitième semestre
- > Méthodes d'enseignement : A distance
- > Ouvert aux étudiants en échange : Oui
- > Composante : Service des relations internat et des étudiants étrangers
- > Code ELP : 4DUC0005
- > En savoir plus : Lien vers le catalogue de cours EDUC pour candidater <https://courses.educalliance.eu/>

Présentation

---

Teacher: Régis LANNEAU

Contact: activites.educ@liste.parisnanterre.fr

After the last economic crisis, calls for more "regulation", especially in financial markets, were widespread both at the national and the international level. To avoid the occurrence of such crisis or to reduce its magnitude, it is argued that more regulations are required. Regulations are indeed tools to shape economic systems. As such, they have tremendous impacts on economic growth and the well-being of population.

If the content of regulations is to be known when strategies are considered, it is especially crucial for both lawyers and policy makers to understand the foundations of these regulations. For lawyers, it helps to develop innovative interpretations and powerful arguments; for policy makers to understand the consequences and the inherent limits of their actions while also providing tools to apprehend and criticize existing regulations.

This course will inquire into the reasons for regulations, the options that are available when a regulation is considered, their limits and the strategies to deal with them.

The purpose of this course is to provide students with the necessary tools to develop, question and criticize regulations. Hence, the computer will be forbidden...

Évaluation

---

Écrit ou oral

Contrôle continu, pas de dérogatoire

Pré-requis nécessaires

---

Niveau de langue B2 de l'activité